Appendix I (Questions and Answers during the Eighth Annual General Meeting)

- 1) The revenue from the manufacturing segment in Singapore has decreased by approximately 50% in the financial year ended 31 December 2025 (“FY2025”) compared to the previous year. What is the reason?

The decline is primarily attributable to the client’s operational structuring, whereby invoicing for certain projects was shifted from Aimflex Berhad’s subsidiaries in Singapore to Malaysia and Philippines, in line with the client’s cross-border operations.

- 2) What contributed to the significant increase in the other operating income for FY2025 from RM355,589 in 2024 to RM1,428,529?

It is mainly attributed to the increase in unrealised fair value gain and dividend income from the short-term investments as well as rental income for FY2025.

- 3) Is there any plans to distribute dividend as the Company is consistently in a net cash position?

The Company is still in the process of strengthening its positioning and diversifying its customer base. Hence, there is no plan to distribute dividend. However, the Company assured that the dividend distribution will be reviewed and addressed at an appropriate time when it is deemed suitable for consideration.
